Dear Peter,

In relation to the above, I was the District Councillor here for 12 years until 2014, I remember several of the discussions. The pragmatic reality is that this area does not have the road infrastructure and Bridges needed to get the minerals to their destination. Nothing has changed physically on the ground and therefore the material facts have not changed which is why the inspector found the area unsuitable.

The Councillors who are trying to re-introduce this area to equation are doing it because of Political pressure on them. Not because it's a pragmatic solution.

Kind Regards
